RESERVATIONS TO MARK PEACE TREATY

Administration Leaders Are Beaten—Would Accept Compromise.

Washington, Oct. 21.—The administration's fight to bring about ratification of the peace treaty with out reservations completely collapsed today.

Faced by the realization that Republican Leader Lodge has enough votes pledged for his reservation program to secure its adoption, Democratic senators now are urging that overtures be made to the Republican side in an effort to get the best they can in the way of reservations which will not mean the rejection of the treaty.

Although Senator Lodge has definitely announced that the time for compromise has passed, the supporters of the President still cling to the hope that they may be able to effect some changes in the reservation program which will save the treaty from reservations which the President in his speeches declared "would cut the heart out of the league covenant."

This hope may not be realized, for one of the reservations which Senator Lodge declares his fifty-five senators will support is the very one the President denounced in his Salt Lake speech.

Hitchcock Faces Revolt.

The first step toward the collapse of the administration fight came this morning when a number of Democratic senators were called together by Senator Hitchcock to confer with the Democratic members of the Foreign Relations Committee upon the policy which those members should follow in the important meeting of the committee which has been called for tomorrow morning. At this meeting the Lodge program, embracing about fourteen reservations, will be submitted to the committee, and in all probability, adopted by a majority vote.

When the Democratic conference convened, Senator Hitchcock was immediately faced by a revolt among the senators of his own party who flatly told him they would refuse to follow his program of voting to kill the treaty if reservations are adopted by a majority vote of the Senate. These senators informed Senator Hitchcock in plain language that they did not believe it would be either wise or politic to make any move that would not give their votes to such a program.

Lodge's Figures Correct.

It was mentioned in the conference that neither Senators Pittman, of Nevada, nor Chamberlain, of Oregon; both of whom were absent, would support such a program, while no other names were given, unmistakable evidence was presented to Senator Hitchcock to the effect that such a program could not be carried out.

Senators in the conference declared they believed Senator Lodge's figures to be absolutely correct; namely, that forty-nine Republicans and six Democrats will vote for his reservations. This being true, only nine more votes would be needed to bring about ratification, and the Democratic senators informed Senator Hitchcock they were quite sure that more than nine Democrats would vote for ratification on the final roll call.

The position of the "revolvers" against the Hitchcock program was that it was useless longer to carry on a fight which can have but one ending, and that the best course for them to pursue was to join in the fight for reservations and make the best deal with the majority that they could.

Senator Hitchcock refused to be entirely convinced of the wisdom of such a plan and left the conference to dispatch a letter to Admiral Grayson informing him that there was no necessity of "bothering the President now," with any matters connected with the treaty. Admiral Grayson was advised in the letter that within two weeks or ten days it might become necessary to consult with the President and obtain his advice as to what the Democrats in the Senate should do in the event the reservations are adopted.

A new solution of the vexing Shantung problem was proposed today by Senator Johnson, of California, in the form of an amendment, which he will offer in the Senate. The amendment will be to the effect that all the rights and privileges conferred upon Japan in Chinese territory under the treaty must be restored to China within one year. It is believed this amendment will have a better chance of passing than the amendment recently defeated in the Senate, inasmuch as it merely fixes the time within which Japan must fulfill her promise to return Shantung to China. The President has stated affirmatively that he trusts Japan in her promise to give Shantung back to China, and for this reason it is not believed there will be much objection to an amendment merely stating the time in which the promise must be lived up to.

A TRIBUTE TO HON.

EDWIN P. MORROW

Judge B. J. Bethurum, of Somerset, Ky. Judge of the Circuit Court of the Twenty-ninth Judicial district, is one of the best known judges in Kentucky.

In a public address at Whitesburg, Saturday evening, October 18th, Judge Bethurum, made the following statement concerning his former law partner, Edwin P. Morrow, Republican candidate for Governor:

"I reside in the home town of our distinguished candidate for Governor. I have known him throughout his whole life. We practiced law together at Somerset till I was called to the bench in 1910, since which time he has appeared as counsel in my court. As a lawyer and practitioner he is able, courteous and ethical; as an advocate, he has few equals, and no superiors, in Kentucky; you have heard him champion the cause of the people on the stump, and know that he is a master in the art of forensic eloquence.

"I, during all these years, have observed his conduct as a citizen. I know the esteem in which he is held at home, and it is with pleasure that I testify to his good name. Many years ago he married the charming and accomplished daughter of the late Judge O. H. Waddle, and as a result of that union their home is blessed with two bright, sweet children. I never knew a sunnier, happier home than that of Mr. Morrow. No man is more devoted to his family than he. He is always deeply concerned as to their comfort and welfare, and is happiest when at home, surrounded by the family group.

ROY FORESTER ONE OF TWO TRAINMEN KILLED

Two men were instantly killed and several others injured when a freight train struck a horse at a crossing near the mine of the Grapevine Coal Company, two miles east of Madisonville, at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning. The dead are Roy Forester, age 32, fireman, of Madisonville, and W. C. Durbin, head brakeman, of Corydon.

When the engine struck the horse it left the truck and turned over. Roy Forester's head was completely severed from the body and when found was pinned under a brake beam.

Mr. Forester was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forester, who formerly resided here, and the dead man was a former employee of this office, and was well known in Hartford.

ROYALTY UP FOR CRIMES.

Paris, Oct. 20.—The names of Prince Rupprecht, of Bavaria, and others of the former royalty and nobility of German officers whose surrender for trial for common law crimes in France and Belgium will be demanded in accordance with the terms of the Versailles treaty, it was stated by La Liberte today.

The newspapers say the list now approaching completion, includes about 600 names, each accompanied by a detailed account of the offenses charged and the evidence on which they are based.

The supreme council, it is stated, will soon decide the date upon which the list is to be presented to Germany, which, according to the protocol to the treaty, must be within two months after the treaty comes into effect.

SHOWN-BENNETT.

Mr. Arnold Bennett and Miss Deana Shown were married at the home of the bride's parents, near Beda, Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, Rev. L. D. Harrell, of Leitchfield, performing the ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Shown, and the groom the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Bennett, of near town, both of good families and prosperous farmers.

TO RETURN FALLEN HEROES FOR BURIAL

$50,000,000 Asked To Re- move U. S. Dead From French Fields

Washington, Oct. 23.—Fifty millions of dollars for the removal of American heroes of the war with Germany from the soil of France to that of the United States is proposed in a bill introduced in the House by Representative Oscar E. Bland, of Indiana. In explanation of his measure, Mr. Bland said:

"I want to call your attention to a condition that prevails with reference to the removal and re-burial of our dead heroes in France. Recently the sub-committee on Foreign Affairs of the Select Committee on Expenditures in the War Department made investigation and collected data concerning the whole situation in France. We found that the American dead there were buried in 829 cemeteries and that there were 75,318 graves. These are all identified but probably about 1,500 of these are being identified slowly as new facts and evidence come in. In the month of August, they identified 150 graves. The Graves Registration Service in France, which is an army organization in France, believes that it is the best thing to do to concentrate all these graves into one or more magnificent cemeteries in France, and I think they are of the impression that such action will soon be taken in Congress, so as to start them on their work of concentrating these graves. They stated to our committee that they were waiting now for a definite policy to be declared before beginning concentration. I think this is the proper thing for them to do in view of the fact that it would be a tremendous amount of trouble and expense to re-inter these bodies in France and later take them up and move them to America.

"There are the graves of 4,500,000 people who fell in this war, now sleeping in French soil. More than half of these are French. They fear an attempt on the part of America to remove these bodies, which would result in enormous economic loss to France. Besides, the future pilgrimages of American parents and relatives to the graves of their fallen heroes in France is not entirely objectionable to the Frenchman. France is naturally a haven for tourists and the French reap a great harvest from the tourists. There is not the same necessity for the removal of French bodies as there is for the removal of American bodies. The French soldier is sleeping in his own soil. The Republic is small and the parents can quickly go to the grave of their sons. It is otherwise with American parents.

"Prospects for wheat crop of Ohio county, are virtually ended. The excessive dry season prevented any preparation for sowing, up to 18 or 20 days ago, since which date the rains have not ceased a sufficient length of time to permit of the preparation of the ground for sowing. The season will be so late before there is any possible chance to properly work the soil, farmers will not likely risk the sowing of good $2.25 or $2.50 seed wheat, when prospects for returns appear so uncertain.

CHILDREN FROM HOME ENTERTAIN MASONS

Lodges Well Represented In State-Wide Gathering.

Representatives and masters of lodges of the Kentucky Masonic fraternity assembled in Masonic Temple yesterday morning for annual session of the Kentucky Grand Lodge.

W. Carson Black, grand master of the Grand Lodge, read his annual report and statements of John H. Leathers, grand treasurer, and Dave Jackson, grand secretary, also were heard.

The lodge was entertained yesterday afternoon by the Masonic Widows and Orphans' Home. School children were taken to the temple and appeared on the stage.

Yesterday afternoon reports pertaining to the State-wide drive for $1,000,000 to provide for a new Widows and Orphans' Home were heard. The sum is more than one-fourth collected.

Grand Master Black recommended that the salary of Grand Secretary Dave Jackson be increased from $2,500 to $4,000.

E. E. Nelson, of Williamsburg, was elected Grand Junior Warden.

Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, Kentucky, conveyed in its 102nd meeting in the Masonic Temple last night, when the following officers were elected:

Grand high priest, S. K. Veach, Carlisle; deputy grand high priest, James F. Winn, Winchester; grand king, Hanson Peterson, Cincinnati; grand scribe, James Garnett, Louisville; grand treasurer, Frank H. Johnson, Louisville; grand secretary, G. Allison Holland, Lexington; grand captain of host, A. Gordon Sulzer, Maysville; grand principal sojourner, William R. Johnston, Lebanon; grand Royal Arch captain, Frank G. Rash, Earlinton; grand captain of the third veil, Virgil C. Smith, Somerset; grand captain of the second veil, Guy P. Johnston, Somerset; grand captain of the first veil, W. O. Rigney, Lancaster.—Courier-Journal, Oct. 22.

HERE'S A JUDGE THAT WAS NOT ENGAGED

(Louisville Times.)

Munfordville, Oct. 9.—Residents of this place are commenting upon the reports from Frankfort that the Governor was unable to find a Circuit Judge not too busy to act as a special judge in the Herndon libel case at Russellville when the case was called this week. They point out that Circuit Judge D. A. McCandless, of the Tenth Judicial district, is spending the week at his home here, having no docket before him at this time. Judge McCandless was not asked to preside at the Russellville trial.

DRIVE FOR ORPHANS' HOME SOCIETY FUND

By agreement of those in authority and by proclamation of Governor Black, the week of October 27-31 has been designated as the time in which to make the drive throughout Kentucky, to raise a fund of $300,000, for the benefit of the Kentucky Children's Home Society. The plans are to erect cottages upon ground already purchased or arranged for, adjacent to Louisville.

Most every one, we take it, is familiar with the work done by the Kentucky Children's Home Society, as two score, perhaps, have been sent from Ohio County to this society.

Ohio county's portion of the fund to be raised has been placed at $2,500, and while the most strenuous campaign will be waged through the schools, every individual is asked to contribute.

We have been informed by Superintendent E. S. Howard, that the schools of the county are organized ready for the drive, in fact many of them have raised their allotment in whole or in part.

The following schools have made reports of amount raised to date:

Concord, Fannie Mae Paris teacher, $13.30; Trisler, Evelyn Foreman, teacher, $10.80; Pleasant Walk, Mrs. O. W. Duff, teacher, $11.00; Edwards, Lillian Beck, teacher, $13.00; Broadway, Grace Chapman, teacher, $20.80; Highland, Mamie Keown, teacher, $25.00.

HARTFORD-OWENSBORO STATE-AID HIGHWAY

A fund of $25,000, has been guaranteed for grading and improving the Hartford-Owensboro State-Aid Highway, by the subscription and payment of $5,000 by citizens along the route and by the appropriation of a like amount by the Fiscal Court, and the total sum of $10,000 supplemented by $15,000 set aside by the State.

The proposition has been approved, accepted and work actually begun. The State Inspector or superintendent, Mr. Dye, has been here for several days. If the rains would cease, considerable progress could be made this fall.

FORMER OHIO COUNTY WOMAN DIES IN ALBAMA

Mrs. J. Maxwell Porterfield died at her home in Montgomery, Ala., Thursday, October 16. Mrs. Porterfield was formerly Miss Gertrude Monroe, daughter of the late Felix Monroe, of Beaver Dam.

Besides her husband, the Deceased is survived by her mother, three sisters and two brothers.

DEMOCRATIC PAPER ON MORROW

The Russellville Messenger, a Democratic newspaper published in Tom Rhea's home town, has the following complimentary article on Edwin P. Morrow, Republican candidate for governor:

"Many are of the opinion that the Golden Age of oratory lies in the dim and distant past, and perhaps it does. Certainly there are very few 'spellbinders' going about nowadays.

"But it seemed to us when we stood for two hours the other evening and listened to the Hon. Edwin P. Morrow make a political plea, that there is at least one exponent of the old-time order of oratory still among us.

"The crowd that was out to hear him filled the court house, the S. R. O. sign being in evidence; the weather oppressively warm, and yet he was given the closest attention. Not more than half a dozen people left before the speaking was over, and at times while the speaker was pausing to let his words 'soak in' one could have heard a pin fall.

"It matters not whether you agree with Mr. Morrow or not in his political views, you have to 'hand it to him,' when it comes to displaying oratory.

"He is certainly a master of ridicule and brought down the house in commenting on Dr. Helzer's famous text-book on Physiology and Hygiene, especially as to what it says on the subject of kissing, which the work claims to be a dangerous habit and one that should be entirely abolished."

LOCAL MASONS HAVE SPLENDID SESSION

Hartford Lodge, No. 675, F. & A. M., held an interesting session last Monday night, when two Fellowcrafts were elevated to the high plane of Master Mason.

A number of visiting brothers were present, as well as an unusual number of the local membership.

CHILD'S ARM BROKEN.

James Lester, the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Fulkerson, who had accompanied his mother to the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Bratcher, Monday afternoon, where the Ladies' Aid Society was meeting, while playing fell from a chair, breaking one of the bones and bending the other, of the left arm. The little fellow was immediately attended by a physician and is doing nicely.

KAISER'S CABINET UP FOR WAR CRIMES

Berlin To Try Ludendorff Et Al—Allies to Arraign 600

Berlin, Oct. 20.—Count Johan Heinrich von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States, has arrived here from Munich in answer to a summons of the National Assembly Committee investigating the responsibility of individual members of the old regime in bringing about and prolonging the war, as well as for the failures to take advantage of the opportunities to make peace.

Dr. Von Bethmann Hollweg, former Imperial chancellor; Dr. Gottlieb von Jagow, former foreign minister; Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, who succeeded him; Dr. Karl Helfferich, former finance minister; Admiral von Capelle, who was minister of marine, and Gen. Erich Ludendorff all have been "invited" to attend and give testimony.

These men will be confronted by Count von Bernstorff, who alleges that his efforts for peace thru President Wilson and Col. Edward M. House, in December, 1916, and January, 1917, were making good headway when Berlin ruined all by a renewal of the ruthless U-boat warfare and that the government ignored his repeated warnings that such a measure would bring America into the war on the side of the allies.

There is a great rush for tickets of admission to hear the count's testimony. Owing to the smallness of the room, only twenty tickets could be distributed among the eighty foreign correspondents here.

ENORMOUS LOSSES DUE TO CONTINUED RAINS

Great damage has been done by the excessive, or rather by continued wet weather. Farmers in the County had only begun to harvest the soy bean crop, and hundreds of acres of cow peas were also unharvested when the rains began to fall about 18 days ago, since which date no weather of any consequence has been fair enough to cure these crops.

V. C. Elgin and Black & Barrass are perhaps the heaviest losers in this immediate section. Mr. Elgin had his entire crop, of 30 acres or more cut when the rainy weather set in, and it is estimated, at the very lowest his loss will be, to say nothing of the hay, approximately $2,000, while Black and Barrass will sustain a loss of that sum, of not more, by loss of beans alone. It is claimed that the hay would have more than paid all expenses including rent for land, cultivation, harvesting and threshing of the beans. Hence the total loss to the two growers mentioned, will amount to at least $2,500 each.

LOUISVILLE MARKETS.

Cattle—Big demand for the best grade feeders and stockers continues and hardly enough of the choice kinds coming to fill the needs of the trade. Market on strictly good, heavy steers, steady. Medium and plainer steers slow sale. Hard to interest buyers in the light in-between steers.

Quotations: Prime heavy steers, $12.50 @ 13.50; heavy shipping steers $11 @ 12.50; medium steers $10 @ 11; light steers $9 @ 10; fat heifers $8 @ 11.50; fat cows, $7.50 @ 11; medium $5.75 @ 7.50; cutters $5 @ 5.75; canners, $4.50 @ 5; bulls, $6 @ 8; feeders $9 @ 11; stockers $7 @ 10.25; choice milch cows $9 @ 11.50; medium, $65 @ 95; common $50 @ 65.

Calves—Market steady, with best veals $15.50 @ 16; medium $7.50 @ 11; common to medium $5.50 @ 7.50. Slow and lower trade on common rough calves.

Hogs—There seems to be no end to the decline in swine values. Prices suffered 50c loss on all weights, bringing top hogs down to the $12 mark. Lower prices reported all around. Present prices lowest since February 2, 1917, when top hogs sold down to $11.90 per hundred. Best hogs 165 lbs up $12; 120 to 165 lbs $11.25; pigs 120 lbs down, $10.75; throwouts, $9.50 down.

Sheep and Lambs—No change in values with good outlet for the desirable kinds. Best sheep $6; bucks $4 down; choice lambs $10; seconds $8 @ 9; culls $5 @ 6.

"FLYING PREACHER" FIRST IN AIR DERBY

Covers 5,402 Miles in 50
Hours—Average 103
Miles.

Milaca, L. L. Oct. 18.—Lieut. Melvin W. Maynard, "the flying preacher," landed on Roosevelt Field at 1:50:05 this afternoon, having completed the round trip from coast to coast in the transcontinental air derby, a distance of approximately 5,402 miles in little more than fifty hours actual flying time.

"I believe we could have made it in two and a half days if we did not have to stop at certain points under the rules governing this race," said the poster-aviator shortly after he landed. "It won't be long before others will be making it in three days. I'd like to make the attempt and take my wife and children along, if that were possible."

Possibilities Great.

"The most significant result of the flight is that it has shown that it would be possible to shift a fleet in two and a half or three days."

The first to greet Lieutenant Maynard as he stepped from his machine were his wife and two children, Evelyn and Rosalie. The aviator handed his wife a large bouquet of American Beauty roses he had brought from Cleveland. He said he was tired, but happy to have completed the trip successfully.

He said the credit for the success of the trip should go to Sergeant Elmer, his mechanic, who supervised the installation of the new motor after the breakdown at Wahoo, Neb. Maynard's pet and mascot, the police dog "Frisco" was the first out of the plane to greet Mrs. Maynard and the two little girls.

Ritcher Tail-Ends.

Lieut. Paul Ritcher landed at Roosevelt Field at 4:05 p. m., completing the first leg of the flight from San Francisco. His first act was to congratulate Lieutenant Maynard on his victory.

"Altogether," said Maynard in discussing his experiences, "the trip was a very pleasant one. I was scared just once, and that was in crossing the Rockies. As a matter of fact they are not nearly as bad as the Sierras, but I suppose the name 'Rockies' got my goat."

"The Reno landing field is a bad spot. It lies in a valley and the smoke of the city partly hides it and makes landing difficult. The jump from Reno to Sacramento takes one over what I consider the most beautiful part of the United States, but it is the most dangerous too—just a continuous row of mountains, one after the other, with not a solitary spot to land."

Preached Six Sermons.

"We were treated royally all along the trip, especially in San Francisco. We met the King and Queen of Belgium there and were invited to luncheon with them, but could not spare the time that day. I hated to leave San Francisco. Do you know, I was invited to preach in nearly every church in town, but I was able to reach only six of them—some record, eh?"

"At Battle Mountain, on the return trip we were presented with gold nuggets and an arrowhead, the symbol of the pathfinder. Then at Green River we had to climb a heavy snowstorm, and between Rawlins and Cheyenne we had to find our way around the edges of five snowstorms when at times looked like two great white blankets hung up with us flying between them. Woonsocket did her best in the way of entertaining weather."

"At North Platte the next day we met eleven other flyers from the East who had been delayed by bad weather. Then near Omaha engine trouble forced us to land. When we got that fixed up by installing a new motor, working through the night by the light of a lantern, we started for Chicago and ran into the roughest weather of the trip. From there east we had little trouble."

"The trip has proved that the Liberty Motor can not be beaten but I would suggest that in future long flights the aviators should carry spare motor parts so that repairs may be made while flying. If that were done flights across the country would be just about as safe as riding across the Brooklyn bridge in a trolley car."

"Do you think it possible to make a coast-to-coast flight across the continent?" Maynard was asked.

"I can not answer yes to that question just now, because the machine I used in this flight can not carry gas enough for such a trip. Aside from that I don't see why it could not be done."

Congratulatory messages of congratulations were received by Lieut. Maynard this evening. One from Brig. Gen. Mitchell of the army air service said he was commending Maynard for his achievement.

This would mean a 75 per cent addition to his salary as Lieutenant. Maynard is certain of first place in the time class of the derby, whether he leads in the speed class remains to be determined. It is believed that he averaged at least 100 miles an hour on the whole trip. He said he flew mostly by compass and said he believed his success was due to "a combination of good luck and good judgment."

It's hard to keep rats out of a feed store. Tried for years. A neighboring store sold me some RAT-SNAP. It worked wonders. Gathered up dead rats every morning. Bought more RAT-SNAP. Haven't a rat now. They wouldn't eat my best grain when I threw RAT-SNAP around." Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00.

A FORDNEY HIT.

"I made the statement the other day that under government control there are 170,000 more men employed on the railroads than when the government took them over. The Director General of Railroads, Mr. Hines, came back quickly in a letter to me and said, 'Mr. Fordney, you are greatly in error. We have only 140,000 more.' One hundred and ninety millions of dollars a month is lost in government tomfoolery in the handling of the railroads of the country since we took them over as a war measure. Every man of common sense knows it was unnecessary to take over their management. It was purely a political move by the President."

"The government took over the steamboat lines. One of them had offices in Baltimore. The government took over their steamships and also $650,000 in their treasury. Recently it tendered their ships back to the company without any money. In addition to this, the government lost $100,000 a month on this one steamship line while it was under its control."

THIS WOMAN SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, One of Thousands of Such Cases.

Black River Falls, Wis.—"As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation, I cannot say enough in praise of it. I suffered from organic troubles and my side hurt me so I could hardly be up from my bed, and I was unable to do my housework. I had the best doctors in Eau Claire and they wanted me to have an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me so I did not need the operation, and I am telling all my friends about it."—Mrs. A. W. Benzer, Black River Falls, Wis.

It is just such experiences as that of Mrs. Benzer that has made this famous root and herb remedy a household word from ocean to ocean. Any woman who suffers from inflammation, ulceration, displacements, leukorrhea, nervousness, irregularities or "the blues" should not rest until she has given it a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. ## SERVICE WINS NO MORE CHEVRONS

Only Men Abroad To Be Decorated For Time In Army.

An order from the adjutant general's office, Washington, promulgated yesterday at Camp Taylor, sets forth that service rendered in the army after October 4, 1919, will not be counted toward the acquirement of service chevrons, gold, silver or blue, except that rendered in the American expeditionary forces in Siberia and with American troops in occupation of hostile territories.

Announcement was made yesterday that field clerks honorably discharged will receive the $60 bonus granted to soldiers, according to the provisions of a recent act of Congress. A number of field clerks are listed for discharge at Camp Taylor in the near future. It is said, as their services are no longer needed, or they may be replaced by regular soldiers.

Many men of the 1st Division, old regulars whose time of service would soon expire are re-enlisting at Camp Taylor and those who will not elect to remain in the division, will have the choice of being sent to Siberia, the Philippines or the Canal Zone.

Musicians Needed.

The 1st Division is to have a division band and a division football team in another ten days or two weeks, material for such now being selected. Musicians are scarce, it is said, but may be obtained from other camps if not from rapid recruiting.

Maj. Harry F. Porter, camp utilities officer, has a plan by which, with but a slight expenditure of money compared with what it would take to fit up permanent residences, quarters may be provided for officers and families in vacant buildings in the camp hospital area and vicinity. The problem of the conversion of the two buildings formerly used as hostess houses remains unsolved.

$2,000,000 IN WRECK MISSING

Nearly a year ago the steamship Port Hunter, carrying about $5,000,000 worth of army supplies, was sunk off the coast of Massachusetts in Vineyard sound. When salvaging operations began it was discovered that only about $3,000,000 worth of the supplies could be found. A congressional committee was appointed to investigate the loss. The officer in charge was examined but he declared that no one knew where the missing goods had gone. The only solution he had to offer was that practically everyone in the vicinity had visited the wreck and it might be that some of these people could shed a little light on the matter.

U. S. CASUALTIES.

It is unannounced officially that the cost of the war in man power to the United States including losses to army and marine units on all fronts up to September 1, is now estimated in round numbers as 116,500 dead and 205,600 wounded, or a total of over 322,100. Of these 35,585 were killed in action, 14,732 died of wounds, 58,073 died of disease and 8,092 of accidents and other causes. It is stated. None are reported missing.

MEXICO OASIS FOR JOY CROWDS

Border Towns Haven For Gamblers And Thirsty Americans.

Monterey, Mexico, Oct. 18.—When statewide prohibition was put into effect in the state of Texas in 1918, thousands of saloons closed their doors and many drunkards planned to "go to sea to become used to water," and when at the same time the United States government put into effect regulations to control vice conditions, ridding the Southwest of gamblers and prostitutes as far as was possible, especially in those places where American soldiers at the time were being mobilized and trained in military camps, the border towns of Mexico at once saw the opportunity that was presented to reap a harvest of wealth by the establishment of saloons, the opening of gambling dens and the offering of protection to those unfortunate women who might care to cross the boundary line to continue the pursuits they had followed in Texas.

When the prohibition measures of Texas were tested in the courts of the state and declared to be constitutional, the Mexican towns of Juarez, Piedras Negras, Nuevo Laredo and Matamoros each vied with the other in providing places where American men and women, or rather those men who were addicted to drinking and gambling, and women who pursued immoral pursuits, would find a haven of safety. The result was that in Nuevo Laredo and Matamoros hundreds of saloons were opened, gambling dens where roulette, monte, poker and other games, wheels of fortune and craps were opened, while the places mentioned were soon full of Mexican and American prostitutes. Nuevo Laredo and Matamoros had become not only a second Monte Carlo for gambling, but soon there were many places where hundreds of Mexican women and American drunkards held forth in their orgies.

Recently a representative of the International News Service, while en route to Monterey, stopped over Sunday in Laredo and decided to make an investigation of conditions in Nuevo Laredo. Going over to the Mexican city opposite Laredo it was found that several score of saloons were filled with men, of whom 90 per cent were Americans, and most of these had already had a number of rounds of drinks and were still indulging. Calling for a bottle of beer of an American brand, we were handed a bottle with a Budweiser label on it, but the contents was beer made in Monterey, and the price per pint bottle was 35 cents American money. Whisky sells all the way from 25 cents to 50 cents a drink.

Yanks Good Patrons.

The saloonkeeper in this particular bar stated that the Sunday before he had taken in over $300 from the sale of beer and whiskey alone, and that most of the patrons were Americans. The other saloons in the town had done an equally big business, so it is evident that several thousand American dollars are spent each Sunday in the Mexican border town of Nuevo Laredo alone.

Adjoining most of the saloons in Nuevo Laredo and Matamoros are finds rooms where there are, crap tables, monte tables, poker tables and roulette wheels, and these are always liberally patronized. The fascinating game of roulette invariably gets its full quota of victims, for the "boosters" who are always hanging about, soon inveigle one into the game if he does not voluntarily try his luck. A stranger at the roulette table generally wins the first time he puts his money on a number, a column, or a color. Then he is invited to have a bottle of beer or a drink of whisky, and later encouraged to try his luck again. And so it keeps on this way in the gambling room. A few weeks ago a wealthy oil operator from Tampico, while under the influence of liquor in a Nuevo Laredo, gambling hall "bucked" a crap game and lost $10,000. But this is only one instance of where Americans have lost heavily in "games" on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande.

The Mexican officials afford protection to the saloons and gambling dens of their cities and, in fact, encourage them. It is said that when the mayor of Nuevo Laredo opposed gambling in saloons of Nuevo Laredo about two months ago, contrary to the approval of Governor Ozuna, of the state of Tamaulipas, who, it is reported, had an interest in the concessions the mayor was removed from office and was succeeded by a mayor pro tem, who permitted gambling.

Saloons and gambling dens in Mexico pay a heavy license tax, and at this time Matamoros and Nuevo Laredo and other Mexican border towns which are reaping big money off

Americans, both at the bar and the gambling tables, give magnificent sums from their privileges.

Very few Americans attempt to smuggle "a bottle" back with them, for they realize that the American customs guards are always on the lookout and search all persons who cross from the Mexican to the American side of the Rio Grande—except those who smuggle themselves across the river by swimming or in a skiff under cover of darkness. An American official said Mexican officials have been caught in the act of aiding Mexican smugglers in their work along the Rio Grande.

Indigestion, Biliousness, Constipation.

Chamberlain's Tablets have restored to health and happiness hundreds who were afflicted with indigestion, biliousness and constipation. If you are troubled in this way give them a trial. You are certain to be pleased for they will benefit you.

REGISTERED CATTLE AND REGISTERED BABIES

Horse and cattle breeders owning "blooded" stock do not fail to have their animals "registered." It adds to their value and is therefore justly regarded as highly desirable.

Contrasting this attitude with that of many careless parents, the Public Health Service gives the following reasons why Baby's birth should be registered.

1. To establish identity.
2. To prove nationality.
3. To prove legitimacy.
4. To show when the child has a right to enter school.
5. To show when the child has the right to seek employment under the child labor law.
6. To establish the right of inheritance to property.
7. To establish liability to military duty, as well as exemption therefrom.
8. To establish the right to vote.
9. To qualify to hold title to, and to buy or sell real estate.
10. To establish the right to hold public office.
11. To prove the age at which the marriage contract may be entered into.
12. To make possible statistical studies of health conditions.

Constipation.

The beginning of almost every serious disorder is constipation. If you want to enjoy good health keep your bowels regular. This is best accomplished by proper diet and exercise, but sometimes a medicine is needed and when that is the case you will find Chamberlain's Tablets are excellent. They are mild and gentle in their action, easy and pleasant to take. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter.

BIDS FOR W. VA. TOWN.

So far three bids have been submitted for the purchase of Nitro, W. Va., a city built during the war and intended as a smokeless powder manufacturing plant. The highest bid was $5,800,000 from a New York concern. It is estimated that the constructive work in the town cost around $70,000,000. The property includes a huge power plant, various other industrial units erected to prepare the ingredients necessary in powder making and the civil community in which about 20,000 people live. Experts who have gone over the property declare that the plants may readily be converted into establishments for chemical manufacture or cotton and wood pulp paper making. The bids were sent to Washington for consideration but were turned down.

HARD-BOILED OFFICER BEATEN UP BY EX-SOLDIER

Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 18.—A former army officer who had been placed in the "hard-boiled" class by his men, received a telegram telling him to meet a certain train. When the train came in a discharged doughboy hopped off. "I've been waiting a year for this chance," he exclaimed, as he proceeded to beat up the officer. After inflicting his punishment the soldier caught the train as it pulled out.

"T. R." AND HOW HE HANDLED RED TAPE

"One very remarkable thing about Colonel Roosevelt while he was President was his intimate knowledge of the entire machinery of the government and the character of the personnel, whether of his own appointments or from previous occupancy."

"On one occasion I had a very important matter regarding the audit of the custom's receipts to arrange between the insular government and the government of the United States. At that time Porto Rico was not under any one department of the government, but each insular official reported directly to the Cabinet officer whose department his work fell under. As I was entirely ignorant of the procedure of the Federal Government at that time, and having no head of a department directly interested, I went immediately to Mr. Roosevelt for his advice how to proceed.

"He said, 'Are you in a hurry?'"
"I said, 'Yes, if I can, I would like to go away on Wednesday's boat.'"
"He said, 'What you will do is this: You will write a letter to the Governor, who will forward it to the Secretary of State, who will forward it to me, who will forward it to the Secretary of the Treasury, who will forward it to an Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, who will forward it to the Chief of Customs Bureau, who will refer it to the Comptroller of the Treasury who will decide the question and forward it back through all these channels for me, who will do exactly what the Comptroller of the Treasury decides. This will probably take about six weeks. I advise your going directly to the Comptroller of the Treasury, tell him what you want, and then go back to Porto Rico.'"
"I followed this advice and the whole matter was settled in fifteen minutes and I was able to get back to Porto Rico, although the final action, as he prophesied, was not taken until six weeks later."

IN QUEST OF FLU GERM.

Washington, Oct. 29.—In order that there may not be a recurrence of such another influenza epidemic as caused 550,000 deaths in the United States last year, Senator France, of Maryland, chairman of the Senate Committee on Public Health and National Quarantine, has reported a joint resolution providing for a thorough investigation of this and allied diseases.

Hence one million dollars is to be made available for research work on the part of all universities and colleges of medicine and otherwise in order that the dread germ which caused all the trouble may be found. In addition all of the agencies of the Public Health Service and the medical departments of the army and navy are giving their assistance in the quest. It is felt by the Republican leaders of the Senate that if the panacea for tuberculosis be found, that for the "flu" may be also.

All you who have torpid liver, weak digestion or constipated bowels look out for chills. The season is here and the air is full of the disease germs. The best thing to do is to get your liver in good condition and purify the stomach and bowels. Herbine is the right remedy, it answers the purpose completely. Price 60c. Sold by Ohio County Drug Co.

CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Six Years Ago, Thinking She Might Die, Says Texas Lady, But Now She Is a Well, Strong Woman and Praises Cardui For Her Recovery.

Royce City, Tex.—Mrs. Mary Kilman, of this place, says: "After the birth of my little girl...my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me...but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable...I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot... I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it... I commenced taking it, however, that evening I called my family about me... for I knew I could not last many days unless I had a change for the better. That was six years ago and I am still here and am a well, strong woman, and I owe my life to Cardui. I had only taken half the bottle when I began to feel better. The misery in my side got less... I continued right on taking the Cardui until I had taken three bottles and I did not need any more for I was well and never felt better in my life... I have never had any trouble from that day to this."

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford Coupe with an electric self-starting and lighting system is one of the most popular members of the Ford Family. It is a permanently enclosed car, with sliding plate glass windows—an open car with plenty of shade. Then in inclement weather, enclosed and cozy, dust-proof and rain-proof. Just the car for traveling salesmen, physicians, architects, contractors, builders, and a regular family car for two. Demountable rims with 3½-inch tires all around. To women it brings the convenience and comforts of the electric with the durability and economy of the Ford car. Early orders will avoid long delays in delivery.

The average citizen and taxpayer of Ohio County don't need to import a man from Hopkins county to tell him how to vote intelligently. President Wilson tried that game last year and we still enjoy the manner in which it worked.

Mayor Bosse, of Evansville, claiming that the authorities of the exposition bartered away $100,000 worth of gaming privileges for $4-500, ordered all gambling games off.
Evidently his appraisal was too high, or the management was not as diligent in putting the price up as it should have been.

"Every citizen who desires to vote intelligently at the coming election should hear Hon. D. H. Kincheloe at the Court house here Tuesday, Oct., 25."—Hartford Herald. Since when did our citizens have to hear Dave Kincheloe to vote with intelligence, and as they desire? You certainly must think that Ohio county is made up of "Ignoramuses" or whatever it is.

In last week's issue we published a condensed statement of Ohio County's financial condition for the years 1917 and 1918. We invite all citizens of the County to make careful inspection of the same. In the past year when almost every imaginable political division was increasing the public's indebtedness, Ohio County's financial obligations were materially reduced. In an early issue a complete list of the claims will be found for these two years.

The Louisville Post says "And Mr.
Black proposes to pay the state out of debt, to put competent men in charge of the state's institutions." It is our recollection that Mr. Stanley promised the very same thing, and you now ask that the same old officeholders be retained at Frankfort.
Judge Carroll said that there was no possible way to clean out the state house with the election of Black, because the gang had him in its grip,

and he had the gang.

From Court proceedings recently developed in alleged fraudulent Republican registrations in the city of Louisville, it looks to an outsider like at least a part of them was a frame-up by democrats. In order to undertake to cast odium on the Republicans. From affidavits filed it appears that Democratic workers hired a bunch of colored voters to go from precinct to precinct to register, and then had the negroes arrested, allowing the instigator or man in charge to escape. The individual charged with the crime of aiding or having the negro repeaters register unlawfully, has since been arrested, along with an election officer, who is likewise a Democrat and head of a Detective Agency in Louisville. It will be rather interesting to watch the outcome of these particular proceedings.

One great trouble with our people and perhaps it contributes largely to our unrest, that is too much patriotism is being driven into the average American citizen, or at least the effort is being made, not however of the good, old-fashioned, every-day, National American sort, but too much of this international world variety of patriotism. Our ideas of duty to home, duty to State, to the Nation, if you please, are being smothered by the effect of high and visionary ideals, propagated by a lot of highbrows, visions and dreams that the average layman can't or don't understand, and many of them care less. When a man pays as much, or more, attention to the homes and troubles of all his neighbors as he does his own, the home he is personally responsible for is bound to suffer, in fact the holy ties of family life are severed and what should be a loved and hallowed home becomes nothing more or less than a sort of station, a place in which to sleep and eat.

When a man, or set of men try to discredit an official for performing the plain duty for which he was selected, and then, in the face of facts, sustained by court records showing that this man whom they would discredit was not in office and in no wise connected with the proceedings while in court, solely because the would-be detractors think the Official's acts might be unpopular with a certain class of people, is resorting to a very low grade of politics. A man who would condemn a fellow for doing his duty, even in a case like the one where certain Democrats charge Ed Morrow acted as Attorney for the United States (but bear in mind he was not in office at the time) would go to a bunch of the vilest and most guilty "Klu-Klux", bank robbers or any other criminals, with low conde-nation upon his lips and in his breath, for the Attorney who performed his plain duty and honestly represented the state in a trial of their case. Or the same fellow would, if it suited his purpose better, go to the other side and try to poison the mind of the "antis" against the honest attorney for performing his duty in a defense of the accused. It looks like drowning men, straws etc.

The Herald says we had no come back as to its statement about the great all-powerful 'Fire-Putters-Out.'
Our come back was that, under the old dispensation where conditions were exactly as they were when the rate for a given amount of insurance cost this shop $29.10 and since your admirable and exalted Fire Marshall and his gang have been running things pertaining to insurance, the very same, identical amount of insurance has cost $65.01. If that is not a come back what is it? The idea of the Herald's that the people do not have to pay for this overhead expense of the Fire Marshall and his herd of assistants is too thin to even work on a bunch of fellows who ought to hear Dave Kincheloe speak so as to vote intelligently. Don't you know that the average fellow knows, that all of this expense incurred by this tomfoolery is added to the cost of the policies that you and Tom, Dick, Harry and the Hartford Printing co., purchase? Every item of expense incurred by the Insurance Companies is figured in, because they don't write fire insurance policies for fun or health. What we say, and our experience proves the truthfulness of the statement, is that when the Insurance Companies fixed the rate it was much cheaper than it now is, and you know that for some time it has been fixed by a bunch of Democrats appointed by Democratic politicians.
Again we repeat, a man that likes that sort of thing ought to vote to retain the same old gang in power, and if he don't like it he should vote for a change. The Herald further states that 1,200 old and dangerous buildings were torn down, yes, two of them were in Hartford, one not over 40 feet from our office, and they left one very much worse just 20 further away. The action of these Fire Marshall's assistants has been laughing stock for this town. Please Mr. Herald, come up and take a look at the buildings left standing by these celebrated Fire-Putters-Out, see the condition in which the remaining buildings were left when the others were torn down. It practically ruined the two buildings adjoining, and I would be willing to wager two bits against a pewter penny that you will not in your columns indorse the Fire Marshall's actions in this particular case, and these are the only instances where you and I have direct, eyesight knowledge of the action of the fellows whom you say were in jest dubbed "Fire-Putters-Out". You might have gone further and stated that all of Stanley's promises as to kicking this bunch out of Frankfort, as well as all of his other promises of reform was likewise jest.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

Realizing that there exists among ex-soldiers an anti-officer sentiment we, the undersigned ex-members of Company H, Third Kentucky Infantry, believe we owe it to Roy Speck who is the nominee of one of the parties for Clerk of the Court of Appeals to let the public know that he was not one of the officers responsible for the creation of such a sentiment. Mr.
Speck served with us from the beginning of the war until the outfit was dissolved and scattered to the four corners of the earth and to show how he stood with us it is sufficient to say that every man in the outfit was anxious to go with him in his new outfit.

Having for a long time served as an enlisted man he knew how to be an officer and did not over estimate the importance of a commission or have any false or foolish ideas about the relations between commissioned and the enlisted personnel. He continued to wear the same old hat that he had worn as an enlisted man. He understood and recognized the enlisted man's view and gave fair and just consideration to any problem or contention that presented itself and was both the friend of the enlisted man and the enlisted man's friend.

This is not a partisan appeal for votes, but comes from a desire to do the right thing by Mr. Speck, and we don't think we would be doing the right thing by him if we didn't let those who do not already know it, know that he is both a gentleman and a soldier and thoroughly worthy of the trust and confidence of any man.
We vouch for him.

Many of our comrades have not returned, some are not to return, and many of them live out over the State and in other States and could not be reached but the undersigned include all of the boys who live around Hartford and we are sure that we voice
the sentiment of all.

"BEHOLD THE MAN AT HOME"

The following editorial is from the Somerset Commonwealth, published in the home city of Edwin P. Morrow, Republican candidate for Governor of Kentucky, and shows the high esteem in which Mr. Morrow is held by the people who have known him all his life:

"The Democratic machine of Kentucky has been on the run ever since the present State Campaign began.
The record of the Stanley-Black regime is hopelessly indefensible.

"Being unable to defend this record of Democratic mismanagement, an undercurrent of slander propaga-da promulgated by certain Democratic

How Mat Cohen Spends Your Money

Facts for the Taxpayers of Kentucky

Mat S. Cohen, Commissioner of Agriculture and Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, employs more people in his department and spends more money than any other three combined departments of the State government. It is very important to the taxpayers, especially the farmers, how this money is spent.

In three years, Cohen's personal traveling expenses, which you taxpayers pay, have piled up to a total of $4,123.03, an average of $1,374.34 per year. In 1917 he charged you taxpayers $7.00 per day for ten days for attending the State Fair in addition to railroad fare and a hotel and taxicab bill of more than $100.00. Does anybody pay you to visit the State Fair?

Vouchers on file in the Auditor's office at Frankfort show what Cohen has been doing with your money. Below are a few samples of the extravagance of this man Cohen who, four years ago, solemnly promised you taxpayers to spend your money carefully and economically:

COHEN CHARGES YOU EXTRA FOR DOING HIS JOB

The minute Cohen was elected to office he got the state legislature to raise his salary, but the legal department of the state ruled he could not have it. As Commissioner of Agriculture, Cohen is a member of all the boards in his department and his duty is to attend their meetings regularly as a part of the work for which you taxpayers pay him a salary. But Cohen charged you from $3.00 to $10.00 a day for attending meetings of various boards. The total you paid him for this was $620.00 for 83 days, an average of $7.44 per day. Easy money for answering "Here" at roll call.

Cohen was paid $100.00 upon the order of the Veterinary Examiners' Board and it was charged to the Veterinary License Fund. The Attorney General ruled the charge was illegal.

Certain clerks in Cohen's department draw money in addition to their salaries. One was paid $36.00 a meeting for attending four meetings of the Live Stock Sanitary Board. She draws a regular salary of $2,100.00 a year which you taxpayers pay. Can you beat it?

Another clerk gets a salary of $1,200.00 a year and in addition she is paid an extra $400.00 as clerk of the State Board of Veterinary Examiners. Pretty soft.

WHAT'S IN THE STATE FAIR BOOKS?

On Oct. 6, the Republican State Campaign Committee asked the privilege of having the State Fair Books examined by certified public accountants. Cohen at first consented, but later denied the privilege. When threatened with a law suit, he said he would submit the request to a meeting of the State Board of Agriculture, Oct. 25, a few days before the election.

The books of the State Fair belong to the taxpayers who contribute huge sums of money each year to help keep it going.

Among other items in those books are vouchers showing Mat Cohen's personal expense account.
Why does Cohen object to an immediate examination of these books?

YOUR VOTE UNDER THE LOG CABIN WILL HELP RID THE TAXPAYERS OF THIS MAN COHEN AND HIS EXTRAVAGANT SYSTEM

VOTE FOR MORROW and the Straight Republican Ticket

machine politicians, aided and abetted by the hundreds of useless officeholders, directed chiefly against Edwin P. Morrow, Republican Candidate for Governor, has been going forward for some time. Only recently, however, have any of them dared to make public their slanders. Mat Cohen, present Democratic Commissioner of Agriculture, who is now the Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, in a recent public address,
uttered vague slanders against Mr.
Morrow.

"Methods of this kind are certain evidences of desperation. We thought they had been outlawed in all civilized countries. The cause must indeed be tottering that has to be sustained by such unworthy methods.
But, to those of us who live here in Somerset and have known Ed Morrow all of his life; who have watched his career as a successful student and brilliant lawyer; to those of us who daily touch hands and hearts with him, who have seen his daily life and know him thoroughly; to those of us who know of his devotion to his father and mother while they were living, of his beautiful married life, of his kindness as a husband, and induigence as a father; to those of us who know of his bigness of heart and the cleanliness of his life; to those of us who know the man as he really is, this slander propaganda and these yelps from whipped curs are no more than laughable little jokes.

"But, to those who have not had the pleasure of knowing Ed Morrow
so intimately, we ask you to come to Somerset and investigate for yourselves. Ask any officer of either of our three banks; ask the minister of any church in Somerset; ask the business men, Democrat or Republican;
ask any school child; ask any of the honest sons of toil; ask any of the hundreds of men who work at our railroad shops; ask anybody in Somerset about Ed Morrow and he will cheerfully abide by the answer!

"But his home people have already refuted these slanders. Four years ago in his race for Governor, Pulaski county gave him 2,500 majority—more than 1000 above the normal majority; Somerset gave him 350 majority—more than 250 above the normal Republican majority; the First Ward in the city of Somerset, where he has lived all his life, a Democratic ward, and registered Democratic that year, gave him a majority of 60 votes. Six hundred Democrats in Pulaski county, who knew and loved him, voted for him. And this year Pulaski county will resent these vague slanders by giving Ed Morrow

a greatly increased minority."

THE NEW EDISON

The Three Million Dollar Phonograph

THOMAS A. EDISON invented the phonograph in 1877. After he improved his original phonograph to a point where his business advisers said to him: "You now have the best phonograph in existence. Let's go ahead and make it."

Mr. Edison shook his head and replied: "I am not going to put out a new phonograph until it is so perfect that its reproduction of music cannot be detected from the original music."

Thomas A. Edison spent three million dollars in cold cash to develop an instrument which matched the human voice and all kinds of musical instruments so perfectly that the original could not be told from the reproduction—or RECREATION, as it is now called.

We are prepared to sell you today for $285, an exact duplicate of Edison's three million dollar phonograph. You may have extended payments if you desire that accommodation. First of all, however, we want you to hear this wonderful new instrument.

May we have the pleasure of demonstrating to you that Music's RECREATION is a reality and not merely fanciful phrase?

THE PSYCHOLOGICAL TEST.

Several colleges and universities have adopted a set of psychological tests in place of the time-honored entrance examinations to which entering students are usually subjected. The tests consist of four parts and occupy nearly three hours. The first and second parts have to do mainly with the powers of perception and observation of the candidate. Such questions are asked as "Why are prunes good food?" and "Is Italy shaped like a banana, boot, broom or sausage?" The third and fourth parts are concerned with a display of applied cultural knowledge in philosophy, science, history and the like. Before taking the tests applicants are required to file a statement giving full information of themselves, covering their activities in and out of school and the studies they pursued. They must be graduates of approved secondary schools and must have completed all the requirements for admission to the institution. They must bring recommendations from their school principal showing that they stand well in each of the following qualities: native ability, industry, faithfulness, originality, integrity, cleanliness, fair play, public spirit, interest in fellows and leadership. At Columbia university more than half the entering students chose this test in preference to the old method.

HENS REVENGEFUL.

Gen. G. H. Harries, who headed an American mission to Germany, gives out some interesting data concerning conditions prevailing in the Hun "republic." While inspecting prison camps he found that there were not more than 4000 American prisoners at any one time in Germany. In this investigation German officers, co-operated, but only because they felt obliged to. In one place the investigators were shown an old castle where they were told American prisoners had been kept; it afterwards developed that the prisoners were confined not in the castle but in cattle and pig pens. Only a very thin veneer of friendship for Americans exists. German parents, it is stated, are teaching their children that they must some day revenge themselves on America. Many insults were hurled at the American visitors. In some places women and children actually spit on them as they passed along the streets.

MAKE TESTS IN SCHOOLS TO MEASURE LAZINESS.

London, Oct. 18.—American boys will never believe it, but two women scientists who are making tests in schools to measure the laziness of boys claim their experiments were first used in America.

It may be a great international question some day, for the English boys, if the women know their business and succeed in their measurements, are going to grow up with an ingrained grudge against the land where "laziness measurement" was born.

One trial test will be measuring the amount of carbon dioxide in Cyril Smith's immediate neighborhood. If he's using all his energies the air will be full of carbon dioxide. If it isn't he'll be loafing.

LIGHTS SEEN FOR MILES, STARTLE BOSTON

Boston, October 18.—Contrasting sharply with the dark sky, the Northern Lights, seen clearly for miles by Greater Boston residents, attracted considerable attention in their first visit here in months. The lights, giving the impression of a giant calcium arc as they flashed across the heavens, were starting in their effect and could be seen for miles.

Questioned at the Harvard Observatory, the director said there was no scientific reason for their appearance, pointing out that it was the general belief that they are due to electrical disturbance.

Appearance of the lights was not a forecast of cold weather, but on the contrary, usually preceded hot weather.

PROHIBITION HAS NOT HELPED SODA TRADE

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Americans are rushing to the ice cream soda fountains under the home-dry regime. This was the gist of an address made by Asa B. Gardiner, president of the National Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers, at the convention of the association here.

"No sir; it was all wrong all wrong," said Mr. Gardiner. "I know we were told that the alcohol starved system would turn to sweets, but the expected rush failed to materialize. If anything business began to fall off."

Another paradox of the ice cream trade, Mr. Gardiner explained, was that more of the dairy was consumed in cold climates than in warm.

COST OF WAR.

The cost of the recent war to the United States, as estimated at the end of the last fiscal year, was $21,000,000,000. For 27 months, it is stated, the country's expenses in maintaining the army averaged over $2,500 a year per man. The Spanish-American war lasted a year and cost only $370,000,000. During this war 278,000 men were brought under arms and the average cost was $1,250 per man.

GET THE HOOK.

Four years ago the Democrats of Kentucky elected Matt S. Cohen, Commissioner of Agriculture. Matt's specialty in farming is the hookworm. He immediately hooked the Democratic Legislature into raising his salary $1,500 a year, but the Attorney General ruled it was against the law. Cohen then hooked an expense account onto the taxpayers which, from July 1, 1916 to June 30, 1919, amounted to $4,153.93.

Then Cohen hooked the taxpayers with bills from $5 to $10 a day for attending meetings of various boards in his department which his duties as Commissioner of Agriculture would require him to attend anyway. This bill ran up to $620 for eighty-three days. In 1917 he charged the taxpayers $50 for attending the State Fair, besides $100 for hotels, taxis, etc.

The hookworm is a persistent cuss. Cohen likes his job with the people so much that he is now the Democratic candidate for Secretary of State.

Do you taxpayers want to be hooked any longer?

HELP FOR FARM LIFE.

Washington, Oct. 20.—In order that a larger proportion of the population may be induced to engage in agricultural pursuits, Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., of New York, has introduced a bill to assure more adequate sanitary and homelike lodging facilities on the farms.

Under the measure it is proposed to create a commission on rural and urban home settlement to consist of six members, no more than three of whom shall be members of the same political party. who shall be experts in housing, rural organization, co## operation and colonization.

Five hundred thousand dollars is appropriated under the bill, for the commission, which would investigate and report upon the salubrities of interest in and promotion of home-owning, farm settlement, cooperative and otherwise, especially for discharged soldiers, sailors and marines.

It is proposed that the commission shall have until 1923 to submit its report to Congress.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE.

Ohio Circuit Court.
Peoples' Saving Bank, et al., Plaintiffs
Vs. Notice of Sale.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Ohio Circuit Court rendered in the above styled action at the September, 1919 term, directing me as commissioner of said court, to resell the hereinafter described land, the former purchaser, Gilbert Wright, having refused to execute bond, I will offer for sale at public outcry to the highest and best bidder, at the Court House door, in Hartford, Kentucky, on Monday, November 3, 1919, at about the hour of one o'clock P. M. (it being the first day of the regular term of the Ohio County Court) on a credit of six and twelve months, the following described property, situated and being in Ohio County, Kentucky, and bounded as follows:

On the waters of Elm Lick Creek, owned by Albert Wright, and beginning at a gum on the south side of the Hartford and Lettfield road; thence east with said road to a stone about 10 feet from J. H. Clark's orchard fence; thence about north to a stone in the third hollow from the Hartford and Lettfield road; thence about West to a stone in L. T. Wright's line; thence south to the beginning, containing 25 acres, more or less. Need of record in deed book 39, page 475, Ohio County Clerk's office.

The purchaser will be required to execute bonds immediately after sale with security to be approved by the commissioner, payable in equal amounts in 6 and 12 months, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from date until paid, to have the force and effect of a judgment, and a lien will be retained on the land herein sold as additional security.

Given under my hand this 14th day of October, 1919.

FARM DEPARTMENT.

More Meat To Come From "Better Sires."

The definition of the term "pure-bred sires" is written in one word—"economy." There are many definitions, many of them learned and long, that might be written, but the breeding experts of the United States Department of Agriculture, when they met to launch the State and National crusade for "Better Sires—Better Stock," agreed that the primary meaning of it is economy.

The scrub hog requires a certain number of bushels of corn to make 200 pounds of pork. The pure-bred or high-grade hog takes the same number of bushels of corn and makes 300 pounds of pork. The purebred or high-grade cow makes three gallons of milk out of the same quantity of silage that the scrub cow uses to make a gallon and a half of milk. These figures are not meant to be scientifically exact, of course, but merely to illustrate the principle. The result is that the farmer gets more pounds of salable product out of his feed when he uses pure-bred sires at the head of his herds and flocks. He gets more money and his family lives better. But something else happens. When he sells more pounds of a better class of meat or more gallons of rich milk, he feeds the city family better than he did when he kept scrub stock. The final result of pure-bred sires is that the farmer makes more money and the city family gets more and better food, probably at lower prices.

The crusade, the experts say, eventually will tend to result in reducing the cost of living to the consumer without taking the difference out of the pocket of the producer. For that reason, they point out, the city man has a definite money interest in the better sires crusade. While he can hardly be expected to put the same amount of effort into it that the live stock breeder should, he is expected to give encouragement and aid to the program whenever the opportunity offers. And there will be no lack of opportunity, particularly in the smaller cities and towns where the farmers are in close contact with the city business men.

Grain and Hay Show.

The International Grain & Hay Show will be held in connection with the International Live Stock Exposition at Chicago, Ill., November 29 to December 6. Prof. G. L. Christie, of the Purdue Agricultural College is superintendent of this show and he is very anxious that all of the states shall make a good exhibit of corn, hay and grain.

No doubt there are some farmers in your county who might show corn or some other product at this exhibit. Liberal prizes are to be given, as the Chamber of Commerce of Chicago has appropriated $10,000 for prizes and there are other special prizes in addition.

If there are any farmers in your county who you think might get up a creditable display, I believe it would be a very good plan for you to call this show to their attention. The winning exhibits from county shows might well be preserved for this exhibition.

Any information that you may want in regard to the entries, prizes etc., can be secured by writing to the Superintendent of the International Grain and Hay Show, Chicago, Ill.

It is very desirable that Kentucky make as good a show as possible at this exposition.

T. R. HRYANT,
Assistant Director.

Bean acreage in the five principal producing States—New York, Michigan, Colorado, New Mexico, and California—increased enormously in this country in 1917 and 1918 in accordance with war-food propaganda, to 1,800,000 acres in 1917 and over 1,700,000 in 1918. The previous acreage had been 875,000 acres in 1914, 928,000 in 1915 and 1,107,000 in 1916. Now there is a disposition to recede from these high areas and for 1919 the bean acreage of these five States, estimated by the Bureau of Crop Estimates, is 1,990,000 acres.

Good Seed Potatoes.

The average production per acre of potatoes in the United States is very much lower than in Canada, Great Britain, and European countries outside of Italy.

One of the reasons for the lower production in the United States is that less attention has been given to the character of the seed. Good seed is one of the determining factors in the production of maximum crops of potatoes.

The use of high-grade seed would increase the returns from the potato crop of the country by many millions of dollars.

The production of high-grade seed should be regarded as a special business. Good strains of seed may be obtained by the tuber-unit, hill, or mass-selection methods through the process of roguing out the diseased and weak hills.

When tubers from diseased or weak plants are planted, a similar harvest will be reaped.

Only seed from productive plants should be used.

Careful attention should be given to securing seed that is free from varietal mixture and that is true to type.

Good seed can not be produced unless the growing plants are given good cultural attention.

As a rule the quantity of seed used is not sufficient to produce a maximum crop.

From 16 to 18 bushels of seed should be used per acre instead of 3 to 11, as at the present time.

All seed stock should be disinfected before planting.

Good storage conditions are essential to insure sound, firm seed at planting time.

These points are discussed in detail in the United States Department of Agriculture's Farmers' Bulletin 523, "Good Seed Potatoes, and How to Produce Them," which was recently revised and will be sent free on request.

Boxed Box or Barrel For Vegetable Storage.

Jack Frost will kill most of the tender garden crops, even in the South, and home gardeners have been advised not to delay in caring for vegetables now in the garden.

A storage cellar or outdoor pit is, of course, the most desirable place to store vegetables, but not every home gardener has a storage cellar or pit at his disposal and some simple and inexpensive method must be provided. A very effective storage, recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture, may be made by partially burying a wooden box or a large barrel on its side in a well-drained spot in the garden. Irish potatoes, carrots, parsnips, salsify, turnips, beets, and winter radishes can be stored in this manner. Cabbage, as a rule, can be stored to best advantage by burying it in the ground, while celery can be placed in a trench and covered with boards and straw or leaves, with an outer layer of soil to keep out the frost. Sweet potatoes should always be stored in a warm, dry place, such as a room over the kitchen where there will be plenty of both heat and ventilation.

If no cellar or storage pit is available a temporary storage should be provided at once and the various vegetables that are adapted to storage be cared for before it gets cold enough to injure them. Full information regarding the storage of garden vegetables is contained in the Department of Agriculture's Bulletin No. 879, "Home Storage of Vegetables," which will be sent free on application.

Less Wool Used In August.

Manufacturers used 10,000,000 lbs less wool in August than in July of this year, although the total for August exceeds that of any other month except July. Consumption during August amounted to 56,000,000 lbs., grease equivalent, as given by the Bureau of Markets, United States Department of Agriculture.

By classes in pounds the August, 1919, consumption was: Grease wool, 40,427,075; scoured, 6,346,756; and pulled, 2,154,645.

Compared to August, 1918, the consumption in August of this year was about 8,000,000 lbs less, but it is pointed out that last year abnormal conditions prevailed and that the figures for August 1919, probably represent a normal level of consumption.

Culling Increases Egg Yield.

The Bartholomew County (Ind.) agricultural agent reports that a total of 1,222 hens were handled in a recent culling campaign and of this number 345 or 28 per cent, were discarded as poor layers. The entire number of hens, 1,222, laid 2,368 eggs the week before culling, while the week after they had been culled the 887 fowls left on the farms laid 2,292 eggs. This explains why it was expedient management to rid the flocks of the 345 lazy layers which laid only 54 eggs the week after they had been separated from their former mates, despite the fact that they received the same amounts of feed as the profitable producers. The percentage of egg production the week before culling was 27.6, while the week after it was 36.8 per cent.

KENTUCKY CROP REPORT

Crops as a whole are under average, due to late spring and poor growing conditions. The drought has affected every part of the State and while some of the late maturing corn is coming out, yet as a whole the corn crop is not up to normal. The estimated average yield of corn this year is 23 bushels per acre as compared with 25 bushels average in 1918 which also was a dry year. The quality is given at 85 per cent. The estimated production for the State according to above estimates would be something over 77 mil. on 6 bushels.

The final estimate on wheat makes an average of 10.5 bushels per acre or a total estimated production of 10,983,000 bushels. This is considerably less than last year, but while the state acreage was increased, the production averaged 2 bushels less per acre this year.

Production of Burley Tobacco is given at 75 per cent with an estimated average yield of 708 pounds per acre with about 75 per cent of crop housed. The total number of pounds of all tobacco produced is given on the preliminary estimate to be 413,801,000 pounds.

Hemp is an especially short crop, with small acreage, and the few estimates received on this would indicate a light yield.

Yield of potatoes is indicated to be 59.5 bushels per acre with condition given at 72 per cent, indicating a production of 4,165,000 bushels this year while sweet potatoes yield is estimated at 91 bushels per acre average with condition of 87 per cent, indicating a State production of 1,092,000 bushels.

Grasses show as follows: Blue grass, 69 per cent; Clover, 68 per cent; Orchard Grass, 80 per cent; Alfalfa, 75 per cent.

Third cutting of alfalfa averaged 1.02 ton per acre.

Pastures are dry, but have greatly improved the last month.

Stock water is scarce in many localities. Condition of live stock is given at 83 per cent.

The acreage planned for fall wheat is only 74 per cent and with but little seeding done. This is about thirty-three per cent less than last year's acreage. Reports would indicate that 11 per cent of acreage planned had been sown October 1st.

The preliminary estimate on acreage of rye is 89 per cent, which is about the same as last year.

While wheat acreage is materially cut, seeding is still in progress. Many farmers are seeding to rye and barley for clover crops. More and more ground limestone is being used as the farmers realize fully the value of its application to our soils.

PERISCOPES FOR SALE.

Approximately 160,000 rifle periscopes, used by the American soldiers in trench warfare in Europe, are offered for sale. The Ordnance department is endeavoring to develop a market for the supplies, special efforts being made to interest novelty dealers, boy organizations, etc. The periscopes are small mechanical devices consisted of a mirror encased in a heavy metal covering with a short arm which fastens to the rifle bayonet. By holding them above the tops of the trenches the Yanks were able without exposing themselves to follow the activities of the enemy.

OSAGE INDIANS DREW OVER $10,000,000 ROYALTIES

Nonca City, Oklahoma, Oct. 18.—The Osage Indians have received their fifth annuity payment this year and it is understood two more will be forthcoming prior to January 1, 1920. Thus far in 1919 each of 2,200 Osages on the citizenship rolls has received a total of $3,000, or a grand total of approximately $7,260,000. In 1918 the Osages drew over $10,000,000 in royalties.

CHURCH NORMAL SCHOOL.

The general board of religious education of the Episcopal church has announced plans for the establishment of a church normal school. The purpose of the school, it is stated, is to train Sunday school teachers and to establish a uniform method of teaching.

"SUN SLOW, SUN FAST," ETC.

Ques. Please explain meaning of terms "sun slow," "sun fast," etc. Also say whether clocks which are often seen in cities and which get their time from the U. S. naval observatory by way of Western Union telegraph are reliable; and is that time supposed to agree with times of rising and setting of sun as given in almanacs? Ans.—The sun is a rough timepiece, not an accurate one. That is to say, the motion of the earth round the sun is affected by over a dozen different forces and the result is a complicated condition which makes the sun agree with clock time only four

Give the world the once over

LISTEN, fellows, to some straight talk. Many a man when he gets to be 40, misses something. He may have lots of money, and a fine family but—

He never "got out and saw things". After he gets settled down, it's too late.

Every man wants to see the world. No man likes to stand still all his life. The best time to TRAVEL is when you're young and lively—right NOW!

Right NOW your Uncle Sam is calling, "Shove off!" He wants men for his Navy. He's inviting you! It's the biggest chance you'll ever get to give the world the once over!

The Navy goes all over the world—sails the Seven Seas—squints at the six continents—that's its business. You stand to see more odd sights, wonderful scenery and strange people than you ever dreamed of.

You'll work hard while you work. You'll play hard while you play. You'll earn and learn. You'll get, in addition to "shore-leave", a 30-day straight vacation—which is more than the average bank president can count on.

You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS.

There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

I think to hold that fence for his wife.

L. P. CROWDER WRITES.

We received a letter from our "Old" friend, Mr. L. P. Crowder a few days since, and knowing that a host of Ohio county people know Mr. Crowder so well, and the said letter bearing no particular marks of a personal nature, we take the liberty of publishing the same:

Editor Hartford Republican:

Dear Sir:—I am still numbered with the living and am in good health, am now living in California, where we have beautiful sunshine and a delightful climate, where evergreens and flowers are to be had twelve months in the year, where fruits and vegetables of all kinds are grown and ready for use in the cold, dreary months of countries of colder climates. For this special reason, this is one of the most attractive places on the face of the globe. Now, it is said the Eagle soars high, but the land in Southern California, in my opinion soars higher.

As we have such men as Lodge, Knott, Johnson, Horah and Senator Reed of Missouri, at the helm, to defend our country, and the rains have stopped the raging desert fires in Cal., Morrow threshing the teeth out of Democracy in Kentucky, I consider our Nation safe for Democracy.

I am getting the Louisville Daily Herald, and also your paper, keeping in touch with Kentucky politics and can foresee victory for the Republican State Ticket.

In fond recollection of the good old times we've had in Ohio County, and well remembering those who were always ready to answer the Party's call, I am as ever, a true friend, with love for all and malice toward none.

L. P. CROWDER.

LYCEUM AT McHENRY.

The initial number of the Lyceum Course for McHenry, was given Monday night at the school auditorium by "The Fighting Americans" quartette.

The house was well filled and with the first number of the program it was evident that a great treat was in store for us.

Manager Cohen has arranged a splendid program of catchy and popular songs together with many humorous and dramatic readings. The songs portraying life in the trenches, and the demonstration of the way the boys spent their leisure hours, while at war, certainly brought loud applause.

Judging the three remaining numbers by "The Fighting Americans," we feel that it will be well worth the time and price of admission for you to be present.

Below article was received just as we were going to press last week.
